- o Works to promote ethical standards

among journalists in accordance with the provisions of Media Authority Act.

- o Aware of Journalism professional responsibilities to maintain high standards of the profession.
- o Adopt code of conduct to govern the practice of journalism.

1. Title and Commencement

This Code shall be cited as “Code of Conduct for the Practice of Journalism” in South Sudan, and shall come into force on the date of its signature by the Managing Director of Media Authority.

2. Purpose

The purpose of this Code is to provide guideline for professional conduct for journalism.

3. Authority and Application

- (1) This Code is formulated in accordance with the provisions of section 21(6)(a) of Media Authority Act.

- (2) This Code shall apply to all journalists in South Sudan.

4. Interpretations

“Ethical Journalism” means taking responsibility for ones work and explaining decisions to the public.

“Practice of Journalism” means gathering, processing and disseminating information through appropriate channels such as broadcast, print and online media.

5. Seek the Truth and Report

A journalist shall:

- (1) Be honest and courageous in gathering, reporting and interpreting information.
- (2) Take responsibility for the accuracy of their work, verify information before releasing and use original sources whenever possible.
- (3) Remember that neither speed nor format is an excuse for inaccuracy.

- (4) Provide context, take special care not to misrepresent or oversimplify in promoting, previewing or summarizing a story.

- (5) Gather, update and correct information throughout the life of a news story.

- (6) Be cautious when making promises and keep the promises.

- (7) Identify source of information clearly, that is in the interest of the public to judge the reliability of the information.

- (8) Reserve secrecy of the source that may face danger, retribution or other harm and explain why secrecy is reserved.

- (9) Diligently establish contact with subjects of news coverage to allow them to respond to criticism or allegations of wrongdoing.

- (10) Avoid undercover methods of gathering information unless traditional, open methods will not yield information vital to the public.
- (11) Give voice to the voiceless.
- (12) Support the open and exchange of views, even views they find repugnant.
- (13) Recognize a special obligation to serve as watchdogs over public affairs to ensure that public business is conducted in transparent manner.
- (14) Provide access to source material when it is relevant and appropriate.
- (15) Tell the story of diversity and magnitude of human experience and seek sources whose voices are not heard.
- (16) Avoid stereotyping, examine the ways their values and experiences may shape their reporting.

- (17) Clearly Label advocacy and commentary.
- (18) Not deliberately distort facts or context, including visual information and clearly label illustrations and re-enactments.
- (19) Not copy always attribute.

6. Minimize Harm
A journalist shall:

- (1) Balance the public need for information with the potential harm or discomfiture, pursuit of the news is not an excuse for arrogance or undue intrusiveness.
- (2) Show compassion for those who are affected by news coverage.
- (3) Use sensitivity when dealing with juveniles, victims of sexual crimes who are unable to give consent.

- (4) Consider cultural differences in approach and treatment.
- (5) Recognize that legal access to information differs from an ethical justification to publish or broadcast.
- (6) Realize that citizens have a greater right to control information about themselves than public figures and others who seek power, influence, attention or weigh the consequences of publishing or broadcasting personal information.
- (7) Avoid pandering to lurid curiosity, even if others do.
- (8) Balance the right of the suspect to a fair trial with the right of the public to know and consider the implications of identifying criminal suspects before they face legal charges.
- (9) Consider the long-term implications of the extended reach and permanence of publication and provide updated and more complete information as appropriate.

7. Independence
